

Michael Wachtel - Brand Statement

Entry Level

Front-end web developer with a background in entrepreneurial business administration and 5+ years experience working in the software industry. Pursuing an innovative team to leverage my newly developed skills in JavaScript, CSS, React.js, and responsive web design. Considered to have an excellent analytical eye for solutions development on the administrative side, I'm now eager and excited to apply my new knowledge towards the development sector by leveraging my upcoming full stack development certificate. With any project, my goal is to provide the best possible end user satisfaction, be it an internal or external customer, the user experience is always the keystone. I'm currently working closely with a four person team developing an application that bridges and aggregates multiple API's into one easily available and user friendly resource. It's goal is to help singles locate potential partners by matching common interests and suggest date locations based on the entered information gathered. I'm anxious and eager to continue applying my skills as part of an ever changing, quality-centric team, crafting the highest quality of user experience on the web.
